ACTUALITÉS

Lauréats du Prix Clio 2010 - 2e prix : Maia Pomadere, les fouilles du secteur Pi à Malia, Crète

2ème prix : Pascale Ballet pour les recherches effectuées à Bouto (Tell el Fara'in), portant sur la période allant d'Alexandre le Grand aux premiers temps de l'Islam.

C'est à la tête d'une équipe issue de l'Université de Poitiers que Pascale Ballet fouille depuis plusieurs années le site de Bouto - dans le nord-ouest du delta du Nil, à une dizaine de kilomètres de la branche de Rosette - pour y étudier la production céramique durant les périodes hellénistique et romaine.

PRIX

Prix Global: Architecture durable 2007-2008-2009. Paris (France) 12 mai - 5 septembre 2010

La crise énergétique et écologique concerne chacun d'entre nous. Le Global Award for Sustainable Architecture a été créé en 2007 pour stimuler le débat mondial sur l'architecture. Ce prix récompense chaque année cinq architectes qui ont construit une démarche innovante, attentive à de nouveaux rapports entre l'homme, la ville et les ressources. Les 15 premiers lauréats* du Global Award viennent de tous les continents. Ils sont réunis par une architecture à l'avant-garde du monde durable, sur ses quatre piliers : social, économique, écologique et culturel. Ils ont répondu avec enthousiasme à l'initiative de ce prix pour défendre une éthique de l'architecture. L'exposition présente leurs travaux.

(en anglais) Ray Tonkin Awarded Public Service Medal in Australia Day Honours

Ray Tonkin, who retired as Executive Director of Heritage Victoria in June 2009, has been awarded the Public Service Medal. The honour was given in recognition of his role as a national leader in cultural heritage matters and his personal knowledge and expertise on heritage matters. Jim Gardner, the new Executive Director of Heritage Victoria, says that Ray was instrumental in creating Australia's most mature and publicly accepted heritage system. "During his career, Ray was always able to strike the right balance between enabling new development whilst retaining Victoria's valued heritage. We all congratulate him on this well deserved award." During his 30 year career, Ray spent 22 years as Executive Director of Heritage Victoria, the Victorian State Government's principal cultural (non-Indigenous) heritage agency. Ray's contribution to Victoria's Heritage Strategy has meant that Victoria is widely regarded as leading the nation in the development of heritage policy. (en anglais) Call for Nominations - 2010 World Monuments Fund/Knoll Modernism Prize. Deadline for nominations: 31 March 2010

Established in 2008, the World Monuments Fund/Knoll Modernism Prize is awarded biennially to an innovative architectural or design solution that has preserved or enhanced a Modern landmark or group of landmarks. The first of its kind, the award acknowledges the growing threats—neglect, deterioration, or even demolition—now facing significant works of Modernism, and recognizes the architects and designers who help ensure their rejuvenation and long-term survival. Its purpose is to raise public awareness of the influential role Modernism plays in our architectural heritage, and recognize Modern buildings as sustainable structures with vital futures. The prize is awarded in recognition of completed (built) work, and may be awarded for an individual project or a body of work. The award consists of $10,000 and a limited-edition Mies van der Rohe-designed Barcelona chair, created by Knoll in honor of the award. The prize is awarded to the designer, architect, or firm responsible for the work. An independent jury comprising professionals from the fields of architecture, architectural conservation, journalism, and related fields selects the winner. The jury is chaired by Barry Bergdoll, the Philip Johnson Chief Curator of Architecture & Design at The Museum of Modern Art, New York, NY. Submit materials to: modernism@wmf.org

BOURSES

(en anglais) Fellowships in Japan

Every year the United Nations University, UNU-IAS and UNU-ISP, offer PhD and Postdoctoral Fellowships to provide young scholars and policy-makers, especially from the developing world, with a multi-disciplinarily context within which to pursue advanced research and training that is of professional interest to the successful applicant and of direct relevance to the research agenda of their selected UNU-IAS or UNU-ISP programme. The fellowship programme provides the successful applicant with a unique opportunity to:

- develop and advance their research under the supervision of a UNU-IAS or UNU-ISP faculty member and contribute to the overall research agenda of the Institute,
- widen their research interests and professional networks by working in the international and multi-disciplinary context of the UNU-IAS and UNU-ISP, and with its wider network of Japanese universities and research institutes, as well as international collaborators,
- become exposed to the workings of the international and multilateral policy process and the broader UN system, and
- link with other UNU-IAS and UNU-ISP PhD and Postdoctoral Fellows.

(en anglais) Nature Conservancy Wins $400,000 Grant

The U.S. Forest Service in December 2009 awarded The Nature Conservancy of South Carolina a two-year, $400,000 grant to recruit, train, develop, and provide firefighters for prescribed fire work, part of the organization's forest management strategy.

The grant is designed to increase the use of prescribed fire, in cooperation with USFS fire crews, principally on the Francis Marion National Forest and, to a lesser degree, the Sumter National Forest. The strategy is effective in reducing the risk of harmful wildfires while improving habitats for wildlife and endangered species. Prescribed fire also benefits the health of the state's longleaf pine forests.

CONCOURS

(en italien) “Biodiversità metropolitana”: concorso fotografico per il Parco Agricolo Sud di Milano

Catturare con uno scatto fotografico uno scorcio di natura all'interno del Parco Agricolo Sud Milano, andando al lavoro, passeggiando una domenica per rogge e cascine, o dietro casa. E' l'invito che la LIPU (Lega Italiana Protezione Uccelli), in collaborazione con la Ricoh Italia rivolge a tutti (dilettanti e professionisti) con il nuovo concorso fotografico nell'ambito del progetto “Biodiversità, la chiave per il futuro dell'area metropolitana”.

Il concorso, a partecipazione gratuita, ha come tema la natura del Parco Agricolo Sud Milano: ambienti, paesaggi o particolari legati alla natura o alla biodiversità anche in contesti urbani e agricoli. I soggetti ritratti, che devono pervenire alla sede LIPU entro il 20 maggio 2010, devono essere ambientati in uno dei 61 comuni compresi nel Parco.

Al concorso fotografico possono partecipare adulti e ragazzi, in due categorie distinte. Per ognuna delle categorie saranno premiate tre opere: il primo premio è rappresentato da una fotocamera digitale Ricoh R10 cui si aggiungeranno altri premi.

(en italien) Concorso di idee per la valorizzazione del centro di Palermo “Centro storico 2.0

Il centro storico di Palermo, con i suoi 240 ettari, è uno dei più vasti d'Europa, ma anche uno dei più ricchi e complessi dal punto di vista architettonico. Le potenzialità artistiche e urbanistiche dell'area, tuttavia, rimangono ad oggi inespresse a causa della disattenzione delle istituzioni e dell'incuria dei cittadini, che negli anni hanno frenato la crescita di una zona che un tempo era il cuore pulsante della vita cittadina.

Città2.0, con il patrocinio dell'Assessorato al centro storico del Comune di Palermo, organizza Centrostorico2.0, un concorso di idee per Piazza Kalsa.
